Practice Areas

Kai Xu boasts nearly 20 years of in-depth experience in the legal industry. He has built solid practical foundation and rich hands-on experience in compliance and risk control, intellectual property, and dispute resolution, with dual professional perspectives from both judicial authorities and law firms, rendering his professional capabilities comprehensive and precise.

In the field of comprehensive corporate legal services, Kai Xu has successively acted as perennial legal counsel for more than 10 cross-industry enterprises, covering sectors including technology industry, healthcare, jewelry and accessories, fine chemicals, and construction engineering. His clients include a Suzhou-based Technology Industry Development Co., Ltd., a Healthcare Holding Co., Ltd., a Suzhou Jewelry & Accessories Co., Ltd., a Dalian Chemical Co., Ltd., a Jiangsu Photoelectric Materials Co., Ltd., and a Suzhou Construction Engineering Co., Ltd. Focusing on the pain points of enterprises' daily operations, he provides all-round and regular legal support for clients, such as establishment of legal risk prevention and control systems, full-process contract management, and compliance review, helping enterprises achieve steady operation.

In terms of special legal services, Kai Xu also demonstrates excellent project control capability. He has provided special legal consulting services for enterprises including a Suzhou-based Biopharmaceutical Co., Ltd., a Suzhou Commercial Building Co., Ltd., and a Guangzhou Electronic Technology Co., Ltd. In the process of advancing major projects, making key transaction decisions, conducting anti-fraud investigations, and handling criminal complaints, he relies on rigorous legal analysis, precise scheme design and efficient implementation to help clients avoid potential risks and ensure the smooth layout and landing of special businesses.

Prior to practicing as a lawyer, Kai Xu served at a Suzhou procuratorate for a long time as a public prosecution prosecutor, equipping him with profound professional knowledge in criminal law and rich experience in case investigation and review. During his tenure, as one of the lead prosecutors, he handled a number of major, difficult and complex cases, such as a major case of manufacturing and selling fake invoices in Suzhou and a series of cross-border telecom fraud cases in Suzhou. He accumulated unique perspectives and practical capabilities in evidence sorting, application of law, and court trial control. This experience has laid a solid judicial practice foundation for his subsequent handling of complex dispute resolution cases and construction of corporate compliance and risk control systems.
